Growing and Tasting Notes

This 2007 Napa Valley Cabernet Sauvignon is the inaugural and much anticipated release for Guarachi Family Wines.

The 2007 growing season started hot but yielded to long- temperate days with cooler nights. Ultimately the steady temperatures allowed the grapes to reach maturity with a long, slow even-ripening. This type of temperate climate contributes to Napa Valley's excellent reputation for grape growing.

Guarachi Family Wines Cabernet Sauvignon is from the esteemed vineyards of Georges III, Lincoln, and Winfield in Napa Valley. Harvested in September 2007, a total of 23.23 tons were extracted from these vineyards, producing a limited 1,330 cases.

This 2007 Cabernet Sauvignon is an opaque- purple color with focused fruits such as cherry and blackberry yielding to long and supple tannins on the palate. This is a complex, dense and powerful wine that can cellar for 2-10 years.
